

Add a Required Reading link to Table of Contents

Last Modified on 06/22/2026 5:13 pm EDT

KB settings > Required reading doesn't have an option to automatically add a link to the Required Reading page into your Table of Contents. If you're interested in this as a feature, please contact us to request it!

In the meantime, we suggest creating a URL Redirect category to add it to your Table of Contents and/or your homepage:

1. In Articles, create a new category.
2. Enter a Title for your category. If you've kept the default settings, use `Required Reading` . If you've customized the text, match whatever you've entered for the Required Reading page title.
3. Select URL Redirect for the category Body.
4. Select Create and edit.
5. When the category editor opens, enter a Redirect URL to your Required Reading page:
  - a. Copy your knowledge base homepage URL and add `/required-reading` to it. So if our homepage URL is `https://my-awesome-kb.knowledgeowl.com/docs` , my Required Reading page URL is `https://my-awesome-kb.knowledgeowl.com/docs/required-reading` .
6. Optional: If you want this link to display in the Table of Contents only (and not on on your knowledge base homepage), in the Display Settings section, check the box to Hide from homepage.
7. Optional: If you want to display the category on your homepage and you're using category icons, be sure you add a category icon!
8. Save and go Back to the Articles page.
9. Use the arrow to drag and drop the new category wherever you'd like it to appear in your table of contents. (We recommend putting it near the top if your table of contents is long!)
