

☒ Nat'l Pickle Day bugfixes

Last Modified on 11/14/2024 11:14 am EST

Since I was 5 years old, I have been particularly passionate about pickles, in all their forms. So, National Pickle Day feels particularly worth celebrating to me! ☒

Pickles aren't just a crunchy, delightful snack – they have a surprising number of health benefits, including potential anxiety reduction. So crack open that pickle jar and give your sandwich some company today!

Speaking of accoutrements, we've dressed up our UI quite a bit recently. We've moved a few things around, but in ways that are more logical than before. You might be wondering why you don't see what I'm talking about, and that's because we haven't released these UI updates app-wide yet (as of National Pickle Day 2024). Before fully releasing these UI updates, we'd like some customers to participate in early testing and provide feedback. If you would like to be a part of this testing, please reach out to us and let us know!

☒ We've also fixed some bugs recently:

- List indentation now works correctly when switching between code and WYSIWYG views. Previously, the indent button would fail after toggling between these views.
- We've removed unwanted merge codes that were appearing in PDFs. Now, PDFs should display cleanly without any merge codes or any other formatting artifacts.
- We'd overlooked the 'search is temporarily unavailable' message when we created the customize text options for search. Now this message can be customized along with all the other search text elements. Since this error rarely occurs, it's difficult to test this, so please let us know if you notice any issues with the custom message not displaying.