

Rename favorites

Last Modified on 12/23/2025 12:05 pm EST

While "Favorites" seems fairly descriptive, some people like to call these "Bookmarks" or add something like "My favorites" or "My bookmarks".

If you want to make this wording more your own, use Customize > Default text to change the wording. Refer to Customize default text overview for more information on using this feature.

For Favorites, you can change this text:

- In-article favorite options: Change the "Favorite Article" and "Unfavorite Article" text displayed on-hover over the icons. Refer to Section breakdown: Article for more information on editing this text.. These settings are used whenever favorites are turned on.
 - Table of contents: Change the "Favorites" heading in the table of contents if you Display favorites in the table of contents. Refer to Section breakdown: Table of Contents for more information.
 - Favorite articles list: Change the "Favorite Articles" list heading, "See more..." link, and "None" link in the list, as well as the "Favorite Articles" page heading once you select "See more...". This list is only displayed if you've chosen to Display favorites outside the table of contents. Refer to Section breakdown: Article Lists for more information on editing this text.
