

Recommend an article or category in contextual help

Last Modified on 04/16/2026 2:26 pm EDT

Once you understand How to format your recommended page paths, you can begin adding page paths to populate your contextual help widget's Recommended tab.

The information below varies based on whether you're using our 2026 new editor or old editor.

To figure out which instructions to follow:

1. Open any article for editing.
2. If the lefthand navigation is collapsed and the editor otherwise has a totally white background, follow the New editor documentation.
3. If the lefthand navigation is expanded and the top of the editor and the righthand column have a grey background, follow the Old editor documentation.

Here are side-by-side examples of the new editor and the old editor:

Add a recommended page path in new article editor

To set up an article as being recommended in the new article editor:

1. Open the article for editing.

2. In the Other section, select anywhere in the text next to Contextual help widget:

Select anywhere in the text next to Contextual help widget

The Recommend articles on these pages modal opens.

a. If the Contextual help widget section isn't displayed, select the ... three dot menu in the upper right and select Add pages to recommend article:

Select the ... triple dot menu then select Add pages to recommend article

3. Enter your page path into the text box with the `/app/documentation` placeholder:

Enter your page path into the Recommend articles on these pages box

4. Once you've entered your page path, select Add:

Select Add once you've entered your page path

5. The page updates to show the page path you just entered:

The page path now appears in the modal and the editor main pane

6. Repeat this process for any other pages you want to recommend this article on.

7. Be sure to Save your article once you're done adding paths.
